

EDITOR'S NOTE

It is a pleasure to announce that two new associate editors, both of whom are lawyers, have joined the editorial staff of the BULLETIN. Professor Henry H. Foster is Professor of Law at New York University School of Law, and Professor Ralph J. Slovenko is Professor of Law and Psychiatry at Wayne State University School of Law. That two such respected teachers would join us at a time when the Academy is developing new educational programs, as exemplified by the recent meeting in Atlanta, is especially gratifying.

With this issue a total of approximately three hundred law libraries and medical libraries will be offered an opportunity to subscribe to the BULLETIN. In this way it is hoped that the BULLETIN will soon be used regularly in seminars and courses in both law schools and medical schools.

Finally, the continued support of Pfizer Laboratories is gratefully acknowledged.
